U. S. ARMY PLANES WATCH MEXICANS

Air Patrol In Constant Touch With Headquarters

REBELS TAKE CITIES

Fear of Trouble at Vera Cruz May Call For Dispatch of United States Warships.

San Antonia, Tex., May 1. Twenty-five United States Army airplanes are patroling the international border, watching movements of Mexican Federal and revolutionary troops. Patrols are between El Paso and Douglas, Ariz.

The airplanes are in constant communication with headquarters by wireless. No mention is made how long the patrol would be maintained. Army balloons have been ordered from Langley, Va., for border service.

The railroad between Mexico City and Guadalajara has been cut and Zamora, second largest city in the State of Michoacan, captured by revolutionists, according to reports reaching here from Mexico. The revolutionists were led by Enrique Ramerez, Mayor of La Piedad, an important town in Michoacan, which has rebelled, according to the report.

La Cruz, a small town between Jiminez and Chihuahua City, in Chihuahua State, joined the revolutionists, advices here said. The Federal garrison there, with 200 men, renounced President Carranza. Defection of La Cruz threatens the railroad to El Paso and may interfere with troops movements in Chihuahua.

Americans doing business in the [illegible] and other parts of Mexico controlled by the revolutionists have been authorized to pay taxes and customs duties to the defacto authorities.

Aguaprieta, Sonora, May 1.—Chihuahua City is definitely in the hands of the revolutionists, it was announced by Gen. P. Elias Calles last night.

Chihuahua City is one of the largest cities in Northern Mexico. It has a population of approximately 40,000.

CHURCH ATTENDANCE

Baltimorean Gives Reason for Slim Audiences

John De Milt prints the following in the Baltimore Sun:

"May one who is neither of Protestant, Catholic nor Jewish faith be permitted an opinion as to slim attendance at churches?

"The reason is simple and clear. People formerly went to church to hear the world of God read, or, in other words, for divine worship. What they get now is politics, burlesque and a never ending appeal for money. This is true in all large wealthy communities. Profiteering exists in our large churches, and religion is being exploited just the same as sugar, clothing or any other commodity."

MINSTREL JUNE 10

K. of C. Promises Bang up Performance at Lyceum Hall

The plans for the big show are under the personal direction of C. M. Horgan, manager of Bendheim Store of this city and E. A. Munch is assisting in the work. M. J. McFarland will appear as interlocutor and the ends will be taken care of by Messrs. Priest, Hellmuth, Roland and C. M. Horgan. In the circle will be Messrs. M. Green, A. Conlon, Ross and several other well known singers of the city.

The Knights of Columbus orchestra, which will furnish the score for the evening, is under the direction of Mr. Jaeger and is composed of about 15 of the best available musicians of Alexandria. A feature of the show will be the auxiliary chorus of prominent young ladies of St. Mary's choir.

Present plans for the entertainment are to make this minstrel the equal of an professional production of this nature staged in the past several years. Both Messrs. Horgan and Munch are working hard on its perfection and have promised theatre goers of the city something out of the ordinary.

SEARCH FOR SANDY SPRING ROBBERS

Ten Suspects Arrested Are Released by Authorities

STILL ON THE HUNT

Auto Answering Description of Murder Car Abandoned in York, Pennsylvania.

Ten persons suspected of having connection with the Sandy Spring bank robbery and killing of director Francis M Hallowell, have been arrested since last Monday, but all have now been released, the last being Joseph M. Savage, who was relieved of suspicion yesterday when officials of the banks failed to identify him as one of the bandits.

Savage was arrested early yesterday morning at his home a short distance from Germantown, Md., after Asa Stabler, president of the Savings Institution of Sandy Spring, who was shown a picture said to resemble Savage, declared he believed Savage to be one of the seven bandits.

When he faced Savage in the sheriff's office at Rockville yesterday Stabler could not identify him as one of the gang and he was released.

The other nine, arrested previously in Baltimore, Elkton and other Maryland towns, were released after their statements had been verified by the police and officials of the Sandy Spring bank failed to recognize them.

Late last night the Baltimore police received word from York, Pa., that a Hudson car answering the description of the bandit machine seen at Sandy Spring had been recovered there. It was discovered that the car had been stolen from Mrs. John R. Dorsey, of the Washington apartments, Baltimore, at 10 o'clock Monday morning. Mrs. Dorsey had left the car in the business section of the city while she did some shopping.

Latest developments now show that from Baltimore the bandits drove to Atholton, a village in Howard county, where they were seen Monday at 12 o'clock. At that time there were four men in the machine. The machine pulled up to the blacksmith shop of Robert Williams. One of the men tried to buy a shotgun, while another asked the blacksmith for an iron bar. Failing to get either gun or bar the quartet drove off.

Three hours later the Hudson with red wheels stopped in front of the First National Bank of Sandy Spring. But, instead of there being four men there were five or more.

Late Monday afternoon the Hudson appeared in the vicinity of York, Pa., but only three men were seen. The three men registered under assumed names, of course, at the Lafayette Hotel and passed the night there. They left early Tuesday morning and disappeared. The machine was found yesterday.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving remembrance of my dear son, George Kuhn, who departed this life so suddenly one year ago today, May 1, 1920.

And held your dying hand,

I might not feel so bad.
I did not know the [illegible] bore,
I did not see you die,
I only know you went away,
And did not say good by.

HELD CONSTITUTIONAL

Pittsburgh, Kan., May 1.—The new Kansas Court of Industrial Relations law is constitutional, according to a decision announced by Judge Andrew J. Curran in the Crawford County District Court yesterday.

Judge Curran then granted a temporary injunction enjoining Alexander Howat and other district and local union officials of the Kansas district of the United Mine Workers from calling a strike.

Judge Curran, did not make the injunction mandatory, as the State had asked, stating that it had been shown that the Kansas miners now largely are at work. He said he would make the injunction mandatory if a showing were made in the future, during the life of the injunction, that the mines were idle.

The temporary injunction will be in effect May 12, when the application of the State to make the injunction permanent is set for hearing

PENSION BILL

Retirement Age of Majority of Clerks Is Placed at 65 Years

By a vote of 273 to 58, with two voting "present," the House yesterday passed the Sterling-Lehlbach Civil Service retirement bill, after adopting amendments making the retirement age 60 years for railway postal clerks, 62 years of mechanics, city and rural letter carriers and post-office clerks, and 65 years for the remainder of government employes.

The will now go to conference, where the Senate and House conferees will endeavor to iron out the differences between the two bodies on the retirement age.

Efforts to recommit the bill on the part of Representative Blanton, of Texas, were beaten, 317 to 6.

The act does not become effective until ninety days after its approval by the President, after which time those government employes who have reached the retirement age after fifteen years of service, will be eligible for retirement on an annuity, the maximum of which is $720 and the minimum $180.

Virtually 500,000 government employes in the classified civil service, not only in the District of Columbia but in all parts of the United States including the Panama Canal Zone, are eligible to enjoy the benefits of the bill. The measure is made retroactive to include persons who were in the service on September 30, 1919, but who have since gone out of government employ.

Those entitled to the maximum annuity of $720 must have been in the government service at least 30 years, and receive a salary of at least $1200 Those receiving less than $1200 will get an annuity of 60 per cent of their salary.

Today is the last for payment of taxes in order to participate in the Presidential election next November. All who have not yet paid should call on City Treasurer Thomas W. Robinson before closing this evening.

RICHMOND—"The Orphan"

William Farnum will bring his engagement in "The Orphan," a William Fox production, to a close tonight at the Richmond. This is without doubt one of the most thrilling pictures Mr. Farnum has made. He is seen in the role of an outlaw who, having committed crimes, is falsely accused of many others. The concluding scenes show the regeneration of the outlaw through the love of a girl whom he has rescued from the Indians in a stage coach attack.

INGOMAR—When Bearcat Went Dry

If thrills, suspense, love, romance and pulsating drama make a photoplay then "When Bearcat Went Dry" should be voted a huge success when this six reel super-feature comes to the Ingomar theatre tonight. This picturization of Charles Neville Buck's famous novel of the Cumberland mountains has fights, feuds, moonshiners, love, romance following so closely to each other that your attention is held from the very beginning of the first reel to the last foot of the picture.

MAY DAY

Today, May 1st, dawned beautfully, with a most pleasant temperature. It was associated in the minds of most of us, in this country at least, with thoughts of nature and pleasant rambles through woods or fields. Then as a cotemporary says, "we thought of Maypoles and queens of the May; now we think of kings of anarchy and the mad dance of the gathering wild flowers in peaceful country paces; now we tremble lest wild men should gather us to our fathers. Verily, times have changed since the period when the favorite poem was, "Wake me early, for I'm to be queen of the May."

"It is a pity that May 1 has been converted into a day of social hostility instead of hope and happiness. We have so many days now that are days of ill will that it is a pity that May Day should have been selected to emphasize discord.

"In a few years, let us hope, our old fashioned May Day will return, when we can dream not of bombs but of the beauty of the world around us, when love not hate, will be the symbol of the day."

Volunteers have already been recruited in Paris and elsewhere for carrying on the necessary work which the general strike ordered in France for today will interrupt. The disposition of the public thus to protect it self from a tyranny which takes no account of its interest is the best evidence that this tyranny will be ultimately overthrown.

The recent railway strike in Great Britain was broken in this way and the "outlaw" strike here quickly demonstrated that attempts to paralyze railway traffic cannot succeed while thousands of students and business men are ready to help out at a pinch. The innocent bystander has at last got tired of being hit on the head.

PRICE OF STURGEON

We were told yesterday that sturgeon could be procured in Alexandria at 50 cents per pound. We never dreamed that this long-neglected fish would ever command such figures, but we were still further astonished while reading over prevailing prices in Richmond when our eyes struck the following:

"The fish market is unusually well supplied, there being croakers and spots galore on the benches. Very fine sturgeon is in greater supply, ing and cooler weather followed. Rain of a tumble, going from 75 cents down to 60 cents per pound."

Sturgeon at this season of the year and within the recollection of many now living, sold in Alexandria at 3 and 4 cents per pound. Often an average size specimen would sell for 50 or 60 cents, or at about the price of one pound at present.

CAME IN LIKE A LION

Shortly after midnight the wind "blew great guns" after which clear-and the price has taken something began to fall at the close of yesterday and continued at intervals until a late hour. May has entered as a lion, bringing with it an unseasonable temperature. Such conditions, however, will doubtless be of short duration.

THE STAFF OF LIFE

"In the sweat of thy face shalt thou eat bread till thou return unto the ground; for out of it wast thou taken: for dust thou art and unto dust shalt thou return."

The truth of this verdict has been apparent since man was placed upon the earth. Bread is truly the staff of life. We may have our individual tastes; some may relish one thing while others may ignore other edibles while glancing over a menu card, but all want bread in one form or another. It is the sine qua non of our existence.

The mode of baking this prime essential is still in process of evolution in some parts of the earth. Many of us have stood in front of effigies of aborigines in the National Museum at Washington and studied their modus operandi of making bread. They are represented as beating grains of corn with rocks and baking cakes upon heated stones.

The Great Head of the Church in describing conditions on this terrestrial sphere when He shall suddenly reappear says "And two shall be at the mill: one shall be taken and the other left."

In the early morning hours in the Orient two female slaves were generally the first risers. It was their office to grind enough wheat for the daily consumption of the family. They used what were known as "querns," handmills, having but one handle. The women sat opposite each other, and one shoved the handle to the other. Thhe mill consisted of two stones. The cakes were subsequently formed and baked upon hot stones or in the ashes. The Virginia "hoe cake," used in negro cabins in by gone years, was baked upon the blade of a hoe which had previously been heated. Sometimes earthenware contrivances, cylindrical in shape, after having been heated, were used for the same purpose, the dough being placed on the sides while a fire raged inside.

But the civilized world has long passed beyond such primitive customs and a modern bakery is an institution intensely interesting. The atmosphere of the place, the odor of warm bread, incites our appetites.

The Gazette recently spoke of the passing away of the many city bakeries, long since cast into eclipse by the appearance of institutions equipped with the latest modern machinery and baking appliances.

Upon the invitation of William H. Thomas, manager of the Corby Baking Company's plant in Alexandria, we made a visit to that place a day or two ago, when we were conducted through by the genial manager. We were shown four large ovens, with a capacity of 450 pounds each. We also inspected the most modern machinery and appliances for the production of loaves, as well as the various varieties of biscuits, rolls, etc., sent forth almost hourly at this establishment. The loaves and other products were hot and inviting. Everything about the place was scrupulously clean.

About 14,500 pounds of bread are produced daily at this bakery.

The Corby Baking Company's plant is a valuable adjunct to the commercial importance of Alexandria. About fifty persons are in the employ of the company, and the pay roll reaches about $1,500 weekly.

It requires half a dozen wagons and auto trucks to deliver is goods in our city, while other vehicles are used to supply Leesburg, Quantico, Annandale and other places in counties in this Congressional District.

The operations at the plant are conducted virtually night and day, except on Saturdays.

Warm bread, biscuits, etc., are procured at most any hour during the day and night.

Alexandria is jutly proud of such an institution.

CLASS HATRED IMMINENT

We believe that it was not intended that this strike should win nor that the next railroad strike shall win, although the next one will probably be far more serious than this one. We believe the definite plan of those who are forcing these strikes is by their failure to create a spirit of enmity, hoping thereby to develop such bitter hatred in the hearts of laboring men as to make them ready to join the forces which are seeking to overturn and destroy the Government. If two or three more strikes are called on railroads, as will probably be the case, and the men grow more bitter as they are defeated, carrying out in this respect, although unknown to the men, the definite plan of the Bolshevistic leaders, there will be developed a widespread class hatred against which the country needs to be warned.

We must prepare now to meet all of the difficulties which we shall certainly face when new strikes are called and railroad transportation is again halted. These strikers will mean higher cost of foodstuffs, higher cost of materials of all kinds, hundreds of thousands of people thrown out of employment and a halting of all the business activities of the nation.

It is easily conceivable that two or three strikes of this kind, each practically called off through the instigation of the leaders, will result in widespread unrest and almost of anarchy.

This is the situation which the nation must face, and we must be prepared to meet every strike and to enact such legislation as will make strikes in public service corporations and impossibility. There should be no more right on the part of public service employes to strike and bring chaos to the entire public than there should be the right on the part of soldiers to strike. The man who enters a public service corporation does so of his own volition. He becomes a public servant almost as much as a soldier or a policeman. A strike on the part of any of these classes should be prevented by law, and law rigidly enforced. Men who enter public service employment do so voluntarily, and they enter it with a distinct responsibility toward the public. When they fail in that responsibility by seeking to block transportation and to starve people, they commit a crime as great as that of a soldier who deserts the army which he has sworn to help maintain.

No one would deny the right of any one man individually to withdraw from employment, but when he joins with other men in forming a conspiracy to bring about a general strike of all, and then seeks to prevent independent men from working, he becomes a criminal and should be punished as such.

This is the issue which this country must meet, and meet very promptly and firmly, without regard at all to the ranting demagogic politicians who are constantly seeking to mislead the country and win the applause of the mob spirit, hoping thereby to maintain their political power. AN ORDINANCE.

To prescribe a license tax for merchants doing business in the City of Alexandria, Virginia, for the year 1920 and for subsequent years or until further ordained by the City Council of Alexandria.

Be it ordained by the City Council of Alexandria, Va.:

1. That the license years for merchants shall commence on the 1st day of June and end on the 31 day of May in each year and every person, firm or corporation engaged in the business of merchant shall, for the license year commencing on the 1st day of June one thousand nine hundred and twenty (1920), and each subsequent license year thereafter or until further ordained by the City Council of Alexandria, pay a license tax for the privilege of doing business in the City of Alexandria, to be graduated by the amount of purchases made during the preceeding periods of twelve months from the first of April to the 31, of March, inclusive, and all goods, wares and merchandise manufactured by such merchant and sold or offered for sale in the city as merchandise, shall be considered as purchases within the meaning of this section; provided, that this section shall not be construed to apply to manufacturers taxed on capital by the city, who offer for sale, at the place of manufacture, goods, wares and merchandise manufactured by them.

The license tax provided in this schedule shall be calculated on the amount of purchases reported by merchants to the commissioner of revenue for State license.

All other property of such merchant, not offered for sale as merchandise, shall be separately listed and taxed as other property.

2. For every license to a merchant, firm, company or corporation, as defined by the laws of this State, engaged in the business of a merchant, the amount to be paid shall be graduated as follows:

If the amount of purchases shall not exceed one thousand ($1000) dollars, the amount shall be five ($5) dollars; when purchases exceed one thousand ($1000) dollars but do not exceed two thousand ($2000) dollars, the amount shall be ten ($10) dollars, and when purchases exceed two ($2000) dollars and do not exceed one hundred thousand ($100,000) dollars, the amount shall be ten ($10) dollars for the first two thousand ($2000) and twenty (20) cents on the one hundred ($100) dollars on the excess from two thousand ($2000) dollars to one hundred thousand ($100,000) dollars, and when purchases exceed one hundred thousand ($100,000) dollars, the amount shall be ten ($10) on the first two thousand ($2000) dollars, twenty (20) cents on the one hundred ($100) dollars from two thousand ($2000) dollars to one hundred thousand ($100,000) dollars, and ten (10) cents on the one hundred ($100) dollars upon all in excess of one hundred thousand ($100,000) dollars.

Provided, however, that the amount of purchases of articles on which a special tax is now levied shall be deducted by the Commissioner of the Revenue in computing said license tax for city purposes.

3. All merchants' licenses shall be paid to the Mayor on or before the first day of July in each year. Any person liable to such a license tax who shall prosecute his business after the 1st day of July in each year, without having paid such license tax, or who shall fail to comply with any of the requirements of this ordinance, shall be liable to a fine of not less than one ($1) dollar nor more than ten ($10) dollars for every week of default after the said first day of July in each year, recoverable before the police justice of the City of Alexandria. Every person obtaining such license shall post the same conspicuously in his place of business.

4. If, after the close of the year for which the license is issued, the merchant should elect not to renew it, but desires the privileges to sell whatever remnant of purchases he may have on hand at the time it may be lawful for him to do so, upon the payment of a license upon said remnant of merchandise, to be regarded for purposes of revenue as purchases; provided, however, that such licenses shall not be transferrable and that no additions to such remnants will be made by such merchant, without paying an additional license graduated according to the amount of such additions in the manner hereinbefore prescribed.

5. All persons requiring a license under this ordinance must make returns to Commissioner of Revenue at his office in the City Hall. He shall assess the license tax chargeable thereon and shall furnish the Mayor, Auditor, and Finance Committee the detailed amounts of assessments made on all license issued, giving the name of the person, firm, company or corporation, and the period for which said license issued. Said license shall be paid to the Mayor before he shall issue the license, and all license granted by the Mayor shall clearly state the amount of tax assessed and paid for the privilege to be exercised and for what period of time. The Commissioner of Revenue shall be entitled to a fee of fifty cents for each license, which amount shall be added to and made a part of such license and the Commissioner of Revenue pay by warrant on the City Treasurer in the sum of fifty cents on each license.

6. This act shall be in force from its passage.

First—on every male inhabitant of the City over the age of twenty-one years there shall be levied and collected a capitation tax of fifty (50) cents.

Second—On all real estate and tangible personal property owned or held by citizens of the city, or located within the city, subject to taxation for City purposes under the Constitution and laws of this State, there shall be levied and collected the sum of $2.00 dollars on every one hundred ($100) dollars of the assessed value, and the further sum of twenty-five (25) cents on every one hundred ($100) dollars of the assessed value; provided, that the levies and assessments as given in this section shall not apply to banks, and banking associations in the city subject to State and City taxes, the taxes thereon being hereinafter provided for, as made in section three (3) of this ordinance in conformity to the State Laws regulating the same. The revenue from the two ($2) dollars of said levy shall be collected, paid over to accounted for by the Collector of City Taxes. On all bills paid in full to the Collector of Taxes on or before August 1, 1920 there shall be allowed a discount of 5 per cent, and on all bills paid on or before September 1, 1920 there shall be allowed a discount of 3 per cent. All bills not paid in full on or before December 1, 1920, shall be returned delinquent, and there shall be assessed and collected upon the unpaid portion of said bills a penalty of five (5 per cent) per centum, and upon all bills remaining unpaid on June 1, 1921, interest at the rate of six (6 per cent) per centum per annum shall be assessed and collected.

WOMAN LEAPS TO DEATH

Jumps From Penrose Ferry Bridge; Body is Found Two Hours Later

Philadelphia, May 1.—With her marriage certificate and other personal papers and letters strapped about her waist, in a money belt, the body of Mrs. Frank Ellison, thirty years old, of 2612 South Sixty-seventh street, was found late yesterday afternoon, floating near the mouth of the Schuykill River.

Mrs. Ellison was seen climbing the rails of the bridge but before any of the passersbys could intervene, she had jumped into the river. Her head struck one of the bulwarks.

Mrs. Ellison and her husband Charles, had moved last Saturday, from 5731 Osage Avenue, where they had been living with friends since they came from Chicago in 1919.

They purchased the house on Sixty seventh street. The husband is a traveling salesman for a machinery manufacturing firm in Scranton and left for that city on Sunday, expecting to return for the week end.

Mrs. Ellison was always in good health and no reason for her cuicide could be given.

GREAT SNAKE IN MARYLAND

Monster Reptile is Reported Near St. Michaels

Easton, Md., May 1.—A huge reptile, that is known as "the big snake" has been seen in the neighborhood of St. Michaels off and on for the last 30 years. Persons have claimed to have seen this snake before and since prohibiiton went into effect in Talbot county.

"The big snake," made his reappearance last Sunday. Previous to that he had not been staged for four years. Observers agree that he is from 15 to 20 feet or more long and as big around as a good size saucer. None has dared to tackle him and the serpent has always escaped.

Samuel Harrison, his wife and boy, were walking along the railroad through the woods near the Pea Neck road. The boy went into the woods a bit and came running back, saying he had seen a monster snake. Mr. Harrison went into the thickest and saw the serpent. His head, it is said, was raised about five feet from the ground and his forked tongue was darting out menacingly. When Mr. Harrion saw its size he stopped short, knowing it would be foolish to tackle it with a stick. He backed out of the woods, keeping his eye on the serpent as long as it was in sight. He reported the reappearance of the monster in St. Michaels armed with shotguns and pistols, made a search of the woods. They are still searching as the snake has disappeared.

"The big snake" was reported on Beverly farm about 30 years ago by Crittenden Harper, who saw part of his body lying along a rail fence and the other part coiled around and up an oak tree. Subsequently William B. Harper saw him in Bagsey's woods. According to Mr. Harper the serpent was tearing through the woods, his head raised four feet from the ground and making as much noise as a horse.

Earl Harrison, the Chaplain brothers and many others have had views of "he big snake" in the last 30 years, and it has become a part of the legendary lore of St. Michaels.

ADMITS KILLING WIVES

Modern Bluebeard Confesses Drowning Two Women; Helped Third to Die With Hammer

Los Angeles, May 1.—James R. Huirt, who is alleged to have married about 25 women and to have confessed that he murdered at least two of them, will be charged with with murder, and not bigamy, according to an announcement yesterday by the District Attorney's office.

Huirt was arrested last December for investigation in connection with the operations of a gang of confidence men. He recently attempted suicide in the jail here and is still in a weakened condition. Last night according to the authorities, he confessed that he had married "about 15 women, perhaps more," that he had murdered two of them and that he had been present at the accidental deaths of two other.

The murder charge, according to the district attorney's office, will be based on the alleged confession of Huirt that he killed Mina Lee Deloney, one of his "wives," in Los Angeles county, and afterwards concealed her body in the mountains of Imperial county, whither he carried it, wrapped in blankets, in his automobile.

FATALLY SHOT

Former Police Detective Shoots Man Following Argument

Petersburg, May 1.—Following an argument on Sycamore Street late yesterday afternoon, J. J. Ginnan, former member of the local detective force, and who now conducts a pressing establishment here, shot and probably fatally wounded R. H. Brown, aged 35. After the shooting Ginnan walked to the Police Station and surrendered. Brown, whose right lung was penetrated by the ball, is at the Petersburg Hospital with little chance of recovery.

The two men are said to have been bitter enemies for some time and when the two met yesterday afternoon an argument started. Brown is alleged to have invited Ginnan across the river to fight, and when the latter refused, eye-witnesses state, the former, who was sitting in a machine, reached for his hip pocket. Ginnan drew his gun and fired and then walked to the Police Station.

Non-Stock Corporation is Chartered by Group of Richmond Men and Women

Richmond, May 1.—Erection in Richmond of a $300,000 hospital for the treatment of deformed and diseased children is the object of a non stock corporation, headed by H. Watkins Ellerson, which secured a charter yesterday from the State Corporation Commission.

Several Richmond citizens and Captain W. W. Baker, of Chesterfield County, realizing the need of such an institution and inspired by the work of Dr. William Tate Graham in the orthopedic ward at Memorial Hospital have been quietly working out plans for the institution for about a year.

A number of sites have been under consideration, but none as yet has been definitely determined upon.

TERRIBLY SWOLLEN

Suffering Described as Torture Relieved

Rossville, Ga.—Mrs. Kate Lee Able of this place, writes: "My husband is heavy machinery, across the abdomen. He was so sore he could not bear to press on himself at all, on chest or abdomen. He weighed 165 lbs., and fell off until he weighed 110 lbs., in two weeks.

He became constipated and it looked like he would die. We had three different doctors, yet with all their medicine, his bowels failed to act. He would catch me, and I got so I castor oil, and drink at two or three days in succession. He did this yet without result. We became desperate, he suffered so. His was swollen terribly. He told me his suffering could only be decribed as torture.

I sent and bought Thedford's Black-Draught. I made him take a big dose, and when it began to act he fainted, he was in such misery, but he got relief and began to mend at once. He got well, and we both feel we owe his life to Thedford's Black-Draught."

Thedford's Black-Draught will help you to keep fit, ready for the day's work. Try it. NC 128

Large Stone Aqueduct Near Hagerstown Was Built Over a Century Ago

Hagerstown, Md., April 30.—Two spans of the large stone aqueduct of the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal, built over a century ago across Conococheague creek at Williamsport, collapsed yesterday and canal boat No. 72, Capt. Frank Myers, just entering the aqueduct, was swept through the gaping side and fell 20 feet into the creek below. Captain Myers, steering, saved his life by leaping to the bank.

The three mules pulling the boat were saved by Captain Myers' son, driver, who promptly unhooked the tow line just as 175 feet of masonry fell out into the creek. The boat was badly damaged.

J. T. Richards, supervisor of the Williamsport division of the canal, stated that a month or two will be required to reconstruct the aqueduct, during which naivgation will be suspended, causing heavy loss to boatmen, shippers and the canal company.

BUSINESS COURSE

Alexandria High School Has Free Tuition—Taught by Mrs. Brauchler

Many of the young people of Alexandria do not fully realize the fine opportunity they have to become expert business men and women. Last September the Alexandria High School opened a commercial course under the supervision of Miss Brauchler, who has thoroughly proven her capability in the few months that have already elapsed. Many of the young people go over to Washington to take up this course either because they are not aware of the splendid opportunities offered them or else they do not have confidence in the work. Therefore, the students of this course invite anyone who is intrested in this work to come and investigate before going elsewhere. Then, too, there is no charge, everything is free and you have the saving of not only time but street car fare also.

Persons having two years of High School and who wish to enter into the business course, with two more years of business training will receive a diploma like any other High School student. Then in regard to those who just wish to take up the business course, at the end of two school years, these students shall receive a certificate which will admit them into any office that the students of Washington schools, may enter. While attending school one does not have the eternal grind of school work, for the students take part in all the athletics and social functions of the school which makes school life so enjoyable.

During the summer months, many of the students are planning to fill positions and then in the fall return to school again, so on the whole it is a wonderful opportunity for the people interested in this line. You may take up the following subjects, typewriting, shorthand, business english, spelling, commercial law, business arithmetic and penmanship.

As you have all read of the installation of Victrolas in many cities, for the purpose of typewriting by music, so too, has this course tried this and they find it very successful,—Just come up and see the typewriters foxtrot to Dardanella—You'd be Surprised.

Then, too, in shorthand, we have speed contests and the same holds true in typewriting, as we all know every one is eager to do his best and it brings about a true school sentiment which causes pupils to do much better work.

The text books used in this course are all highly recommended and under all these conditions it makes the geenral course very practicable which is the main factor in a business course

Thirsty Citizens Play Part of Goats In Thrilling Moonlight Moonshine Drama.

Washington, May 1.—A garage at one of the foreign legations here, six empty barrels, a small quantity of whisky and two slick bootleggers, played the parts in a moonlight drama, which cost two thirsty and creditable citizens $6,000 and has just come to light here.

The bootleggers rented the garage, filled the barrels almost full with water, then placed false tops, poured in an inch of whisky and replaced the regular barrel heads. The victims sampled the whisky through a straw, paid $6,000 and discovered the water later.

TROOPS GUARD CAPITOL

Hartford, Conn., May 1.—Colonel Charles Z. Burpee, of the First State Guard Regiment here at 1.10 o'clock this morning, called his staff out.

It was given out officially by Colonel Burpee that the call was sent to all officers and men of the State Guard as the result of a telephone tip that the Capitol building, the State armory and the East Hartford bridge were to be blown up before dawn.

Colonel Burpee immediately summoned Captain Arthur C. Woodward and hundreds of telephone calls for members of the State Guard were put in. Inside of half and hour about seventy-five men responded, cordons were thrown about the Capitol and the State armory, and a detail was on its way to the bridge. From all points in the city additional guardsmen were hurrying to the armory.

Guardsmen also were sent to the municipal building and the power plant of the Hartford Electric Light Company.

All of the available police in the city were called to duty and they joined with the guardsmen in the protection of property.

RADICAL PLOT MURDERS

Federal and State Officials Marked for Slaughter, Palmer Asserts

Washington, April 30.—Plots against the lives of more than a score of Federal and State officials have been discovered by the Department of Justice as part of radical May day demonstrations, Attorney General Palmer announced last night.

The assassinations and assaults, Mr. Palmer said, were included in the May Day program organized by the radical elements and were in addition to strikes and other disturbances intended by the radicals as an effort in behalf of peace with Soviet Russia.

State officials marked as "victims" have been notified by the department the Attorney General added, of the information in the hands of the Federal government and their co-operation requested respecting radical demonstrations.

The department has information, according to the Attorney General, that the instigators of the May day demonstration here have been working "in direct connection and unison" with the leaders of disturbances set for Europe. As in Europe, attempts are being made to incite strikers in all basic American industries, Mr. Palmer said, although he did not believe they would be successful.
